

The SPC Charter—The Peace and Order of Life on Earth—The Master Key “III”
The Universal Declaration, January 1, 2015

Yoshiyuki Yokoyama,
Founder & Board Chairperson, SPC JAPAN UNITED

Humankind has lived ever since the dawn of history by making use of “the law of cause and effect.” Especially since the Industrial Revolution that first took place in Britain in the 18th century, the application of this law has increased along with the tendency to place significance on materialism. Without having doubts of efficiency, people use the so-called “9 times 9 equals 81” formula as the absolute standard for living and evaluation measure. The domain of science, including the manufacturing of manmade satellites, calculation of their orbits, microscopic wave motions, oscillation, magnetism, IT and the like, is all based on “the law of cause and effect.”

There is one person, however, who casts doubt on this and presents an alternative!

He is philosopher Yoshiyuki Yokoyama, who is said to be an unparalleled eccentric!

The formula called “the law of cause and effect” leads to the working out of only one “fact” called “the right answer.” And the fact which remains devoid of “Providence” provokes the “self-interest” that lies in people’s deep consciousness and sets the unnecessary principle of competition to work. Humankind has been unable to do away with large and small wars over many centuries. He has tried to stop conflicts by making religions, sciences and the like, public, but armed disputes have taken place, invariably, somewhere in the world.

At this very moment Humankind is facing the eve of a great war which seems as if in concert with great nature’s abnormal changes!

Even now, confronted with this huge problem of Humankind’s folly, no one is able to find out a great law that goes beyond great people of the past.

As a manifestation of our action led by Heaven’s will, we, the SPC Organization, asked Mr. Yuichiro Miura for cooperation and got him to put up the UN Flag, a symbol of peace, on top of the world’s tallest mountain, Mt. Everest. This was the start of “our appeal for humankind-level peace.”

The eccentric, called Yoshiyuki Yokoyama, who worships and fosters The Three Sacred Flags, himself proclaimed the finiteness of the formula called “the law of cause and effect,” and he “alone” perceived that infinity lies only in the “3-tier” structure of “good reason, cause and effect.”

“The Three Sacred Flags” means the following three kinds of flags.

◎The UN Flag, a symbol of peace, symbolizes “to live yearning for peace!”

◎The SPC Flag, which invigorates passion, symbolizes “each person living passionately!”

©The Mandala Flag, the flag with a geometrical structure, symbolizes “to invite wakefulness!” which is the purpose of each individual’s life.

This “law and logic” named The Master Key “III,” which has been brought about by Providence and Heaven’s Will does not belong to an individual, but to all Humankind. “Good reason” is the law of the natural world, the principle of creation and development. It is affection for all kinds of life on earth, and it is to regard the dignity of life, the awe of and respect for life and the paeon to life as the premise of consciousness, and to live out one’s given life sincerely.
